Note: Unlike Lenormand, the Kipper cards were designed to have several extra people cards in the deck who represent relatives, friends, members of public, people we deal with in everyday life or who describe a situation or emotion showing in the reading. The Older Man (Card 5) plays the part of a same-sex partner for a gay man, as the Older Woman (Card 6) plays the part of a same-sex partner for a gay woman. Renaming of Cards: There have been some slight renaming of cards to better reflect modern English & our understanding of the terms (different from 19th Century German). I have tried to keep to the original symbolism & card images from the Original Kipper Cards (German) where possible & updated some of them to fit into the design theme of Roaring 20s Art Deco era.

Some History on Kipper Cards from the LWB of several commercial decks & <http://www.fortune-telling-cards.com/kipper-cards-kipper-wahrsagekarten.html>

The Kipper Cards were thought to have been designed around 1880 by a German fortune teller, Frau Susanna Kipper, but their precise origins remain obscure. It's possible they originated from the Wipper (Kipper) people who travelled around central Europe during the Thirty Years' War of 1618-1648. Since the Kipper people travelled across the countryside much like gypsies, it's possible they learned the art of cartomancy from them. Regardless of their true origins, there's no doubt that Kipper cards are amongst the most popular fortune-telling cards today, along with Tarot & Lenormand cards. What is known is that in about 1890 the first Kipper Cards were sold in Germany. The antique Original Kipper Cards were later reprinted by the German printers AG Muller. 2002 saw the designs by the artist Salish. He kept the symbolism & significance close to the original antique Kipper cards from the turn of the century, but when Salish repainted his version, they received a lighter look & the cards had a well-deserved renaissance. R E Feichter published her Mystical Kippers in 2004 with light & whimsical imagery. Even today these kinds of fortune telling cards are very popular & are still top sellers. In the deck you find person cards & situation cards; the cards have common images that are self-explanatory. This combination is unique & makes fortune telling easy for beginners & experienced readers alike.

VARIOUS KIPPER CARD SPREADS FOR YOU TO TRY (from the original Little White Booklet)

The All Card Spread: The spread involves all 36 cards – ideal for getting an overall view of the present life situation. The information gathered from an All Card Spread are valid for about 6 – 12 mths, however, before laying out the cards, you make decide to ask about a specific period of time of less than 6 mths e.g. 1 week, 1 month etc.

- 1 Shuffle the cards, thinking about the Question. Lay the deck on the table, then split it, with one hand, into 3 piles. Pick up each pile & check the card beneath. Make note of these 3 cards as they give information about the current topic & will later complete the interpretation of the full 36 card spread.
- 2 Return the 3 card piles to their original position then lay out the cards from the top of the deck, from left to right & from top to bottom, 4 rows of 9 cards.
- 3 First look at the position of the Main Person card (representing the Querent in the reading), for males its Card 1, for females its Card 2. Pay attention to the cards that lay around it forming 3 rows of 3 (Square of 9). What kind of cards are they? Look up the meanings.
- 4 Of great importance is the card above the Person Card, it denotes something in the process of developing. It may only be perceptible as a feeling or it may already have materialised in your life.
- 5 Now you already have 4 statements:
  - a the 3 cards from the 3 piles when the deck was split,
  - b the first card laid down in the All Cards Spread,
  - c the 8 cards around the Person Card,
  - d the card falling above the Person Card.

What is the main theme or topic of these 4 statements?

- 6 Now interpret the rest of the cards. Start with the Person Card. Everything in front of the Person Card is the future, everything behind the Person Card is the past.
- 7 The card below the Person Card relates to something people tend to repress or trample on. How does this card fit in with the Querent's question or situation?
- 8 Next interpret the cards in the horizontal, vertical & diagonal lines moving away from the Person Card.
- 9 Now look for topics of interest to you in the cards e.g. love, career, family, health, finances etc. The relevant card doesn't necessarily have to be near the Person Card. Find this topic card & interpret the cards that like around it in all directions for more information.

Laying Out the Cards – Full 36 Card Reading

- 1 The Reader shuffles the cards, puts the deck down on the table with the back sides up, then with one hand, splits the deck into 3 separate piles.
- 2 The 3 piles are turned over & the card on top of each pile are read. These 3 cards, called Key Cards, are particularly important, depending on what individual interpretation they show for the question. They show from left, middle & right as Past, Present & Future. The Reader makes a note of these cards to add to the interpretation later, then continues.
- 3 The 3 piles of cards are returned together as a full deck in the same order, then laid out in 4 rows of 9 cards. If the card that represents the Querent (Main Man or Main Woman) falls at the end of a row of cards, a satisfactory interpretation is not possible. The deck has to be reshuffled & laid out again until the Main Person Card falls somewhere in the middle of the layout.
- 4 The full meaning of the Reading can now take place. The Reader starts with the evaluation of the position of the Person Card & the cards that lay closest to it. The cards to the left of the person card interpret the past, so the events & experiences that lie behind him/her. The cards to the right of the Person Card indicate the future, also events, desires & dispositions that are fated, or result without the Querent's own actions.

Example 1:

The 23rd Card in a Personal Reading & the 8 Cards around it. Place here in position 23, Card 1 for Main Man or Card 2 for Main Woman. The numbers show the order of laying in sequence.
