A MESSAGE TO YOU

From Margarete Ward

We were put on this beautiful earth to enjoy it and gain knowledge. This is the Infinite plan. It was not originally intended for us to suffer. Good is positive and bad is the opposite, or negative.

According to Gong Hee Fot Choy life holds three to one in favor of good over evil and it is largely a matter of individual concentration and effort as to the success of a personal effort to gain the things which each of us desires.

All are eager to know what the future holds. For this reason most persons, including myself, are curious as to what is beyond the curtain of tomorrow.

As a world traveler I have been constantly interested in what is commonly called "Fortune-telling." Circling the world several times as I have, ample opportunity was afforded me to visit card readers, mystics of almost every country, and to study their methods and the lore behind their art. One of the most interesting studies I made was of the fortune-telling in China, that great ocean of ancient mystic knowledge.

Based on what I have learned through these myriads of experiences I have crystalized my observations into this game of Gong Hee Fot Choy—"Greetings of Riches." The inspiration came to through the almost innumerable pleas of my friends to have me read their fortune with cards. I did this, morning, noon, and night, and days on-end until the demand upon my time became so great that, in justice to all, I decided to place my method at the disposal not only of my intimate friends but the world at large. This I have done in Gong Hee Fot Choy.

Power lies within ourselves to possess the good things of life. We must concentrate on the things we want and not fret and worry about them. Few know how to concentrate and also few realize that concentration and worry are two widely different mental actions. For example, my friends see that I am successful in whatever I undertake and ask me, "why do you get so much out of life while I have to struggle so hard for everything I obtain?" Of course, I do feel sorry for them and immediately start helping to straighten out life's tangled threads.

By means of Gong Hee Fot Choy everyone has what I believe to be an infallible method of concentration and by it each person can discover the road to a better and fuller life. This has been proved through the years I have used Gong Hee Fot Choy in guiding myself and others.

During my association with the Chinese in China I came to love them and for the first time in my life I discovered there the true meaning of brotherly love and friendship. This game that I have called Gong Hee Fot Choy, which literally translated means "Greeting of Riches," was so designated to give a small token of my appreciation of this marvelous people.

In Gong Hee Fot Choy I have drawn the best from all the card mystics in the world, including the Chinese, and have welded this material and improved upon it to such an extent that this method can be declared to be entirely new and different from any other in the world.

Remember this, and also be persuaded of its truth the future is not in the hands of fate, but in ourselves.

Jules Jusserand.

DIRECTIONS

 Read these Directions entirely before starting to read GONG HEE FOT CHOY

Since presenting GONG HEE FOT CHOY as a game in 1935, I find the public intensely interested in the language of the cards and that they want to know more about this new and different card reading system, so I am endeavoring in this issue to explain it more fully. The cards and the board are used only as a medium to aid in concentration. Spiritually they represent people, things and events.

GONG HEE FOT CHOY consists of a board and book. 32 playing cards are used. From the pack discard the sixes, the fives, the fours, the threes, the twos, and the joker. Notice that there are 32 cards used and 32 houses on the board.

(I have used four weeks, the twenty-eight-day lunar month, figuratively to denote time. Four more cards are added, namely: Houses of Compass, Moon, Seasons, Sun, making 32 in all.)

Place the board in front of you, shuffle the cards and make a wish. Do not cut the cards as this breaks the continuity and sequence of the reading. Now place a card, face up, in each house on the board, starting at top and placing across from left to right.

The House of Compass is the first on the board. It represents distance and thought, and good vibrations. Thoughts or vibrations travel like wireless waves, and each of us has a perfect sending and receiving set within us. This house tells you the direction from which your good vibrations are coming, and helps you to pick up or understand through concentration messages you will receive while consulting GONG HEE FOT CHOY. Check the card in the House of Compass to determine the suit. On page 7 in the book read the suit message and face direction as indicated.

The next house is the House of Wishes, pages 8 and 9 in the book. In this house each card is listed separately under its respective suit, as are the cards in all the remaining houses, except the House of Sun. Now look at the card you find in the House of Wishes on the board. After identifying the card look in the House of Wishes in the book and you will find its meaning listed under its respective suit. Each house has four units—Hearts, Diamonds, Clubs, Spades. If you receive a message in the House of Wishes which you think does not coincide with that for or about which you wished, and it seems foreign and meaningless, do not regard this situation lightly or conclude that it does not apply to your wish. Remember you know little or nothing of the changing conditions, circumstances, or influences which are constantly developing to govern your life.

When you receive a message in the House of Wishes that you do not understand, this indicates that you should take special note of this message.

The card that falls in the House of Wishes indicates the condition or circumstances that influence your wish. ALWAYS check carefully the message that is in the house this card represents. Example, if the seven of diamonds falls in the House of Wishes it represents the House of Success. Check carefully the message you receive in the House of Success as the message may either suggest indirectly or speak very clearly regarding your wish.

A spade in the House of Wishes indicates that an opposing condition, or influence, exists. This might be caused by many things, such as jealousy, envy, hatred, or financial condition. The Spade has many meanings, such as the blues, worry, sickness, trouble, intrigue, death, anything of a disagreeable nature.

After you have read the message in the House of Wishes, concentrate on the things and surroundings in your life and see if the message applies to these conditions. If you think it does not or it seems vague, remember there are outside forces influencing your wish that you know nothing about. Hold a firm thought for what you desire. Write the message GONG HEE FOT CHOY brings to you while consulting it so that you may refer to it during the week. Frequently an apparently meaningless message will unfold itself to you as time advances.

In reading the cards in the remaining houses, follow the procedure used in the House of Wishes.

HOUSE OF SUCCESS: When you get a favorable card in the House of Success do not take it for granted that it means success in everything.

HOUSE OF MOON: There is always a mystery about a beautiful moon, which speaks for lovers. It has much to do with our destiny through life, through those we love or love us, as well as the destiny of the world.

HOUSE OF SEASONS: The House of Seasons represents time. This house has the Queen of Diamonds for its spiritual representative. A season covers a period of three months. The Queen of Diamonds may be read as an old person or spirit and you may interpret in this manner instead of time, also any other face card may be used to represent any one that you may choose.

HOUSE OF LUCK: You may get a spade in the House of Success and in many of the other important houses, but this does not mean you will not be lucky. You may have trouble in love or marriage, lose your job or go broke in business, but while walking the street trying to find a job you may stumble on a roll of bills, or something very valuable lost and receive a big reward. You might buy a ticket on a raffle or lottery, or play the races and win a large amount, this is the meaning of luck.

HOUSE OF SUN: The House of Sun is the last house on the board, and is the house of concentrated thought. The Sun gives light, like the aura or invisible halo that surrounds each of us.

The QUEEN OF CLUBS: Always represents the Inquirer or party that is consulting GONG HEE FOT CHOY, either male or female, and the house on the board called Inquirer belongs to this card. United they mean Spiritually man or woman. When reading the cards always remember the Queen of Clubs represents the person who is having his fortune told, and the House of Inquirer on the board is his personal house.

As you read your fortune try to link the conditions in your life with those conveyed by the cards. Keep in mind your affairs. When the spades warn you of impending danger or trouble, be on your guard. The same applies to money matters, love and business. There are so many different angles it is impossible, in this book to tell exactly what to expect, but with your own affairs in mind, you can very nearly tell what the cards are trying to convey to you.

Also bear in mind when reading the cards that you may receive messages which you are unable to understand. This applies to persons who do not earn the actual money for their livelihood, such as housewives or dependents. Wherever your support comes from these conditions prevail and have something to do with the money you spend and the source of this money. So if you get a message you think does not apply to you, it applies to the place of work or business your supply or support comes from. Keep this in mind. Young people sometimes get messages from GONG HEE FOT CHOY concerning their home conditions or their fathers' or mothers' affairs. GONG HEE FOT CHOY reaches far into affairs, and the source of your "Rice," as the Chinese say (we say food). So often they will get messages they do not understand, but the father, mother or guardian would understand the message if he or she were present at the reading of the cards.

While presenting GONG HEE FOT CHOY as a game, the aim is to instill in the individual the art of concentration, as concentration is the means whereby we get the good things out of life that are here for us. Worry is confusion; confusion is misdirected thought; misdirected thought is wasted energy. You should know what you need or want, and send your thoughts direct in securing them.

Consult GONG HEE FOT CHOY once a week only. To consult it oftener is likely to confuse your powers of concentration. Do not use GONG HEE FOT CHOY in a light or a haphazard way and expect satisfying results. This cannot be done.

If you want to make a wish for something between readings, shuffle the cards in the usual way and place them on the board as if you were going to read your fortune. Read the message in the House of Wishes only and follow directions by checking the card to get an answer to your wish.

If you will devote a little time to study the meanings of the cards in the House of Wishes, in this book, you can become an expert card reader. Note: Each card represents a house on the board, and the names of the card and house are listed together, on every page in the book. Example: ACE OF HEARTS (the abode), etc. In this manner you can refer to the meaning of each card, in any house as you progress through the book. As the space is limited I cannot tell you the many meanings of each individual card, but when you read the cards analyze them—read them as broadly as possible. I will analyze the Ace of Hearts. It is called THE ABODE. It represents a home. The home can be a boarding house, hut, hotel or any place you spend the most of your time. Even a business man's office is a home to him. Give each card as many interpretations as possible that have a similar meaning.

Always check the sequences before starting to read the cards, also check your suits to see if many of a kind fall together, like many diamonds, hearts, etc. Several cards of one suit falling together add strength to surrounding cards—and modify the unpleasant meaning of spades near them.

The HEARTS represent LOVE and FRIENDSHIP; anything of a personal nature.

The DIAMONDS represent FORTUNE and RICHES, and papers of any kind.

The CLUBS represent LUCK, WISDOM, and BUSINESS.

The SPADES represent the UNPLEASANT THINGS of life.

MEANING OF CARD SEQUENCES

4	ACES	indicates	a big change in your life
3	"	"	troubles will pass away
4	KINGS	"	good times coming
3	"	"	good news brings
4	QUEENS	"	company
3	"	"	a fight or argument with friends
4	JACKS	"	a relative returns from a distance
3	"	"	an old friend returns
4	TENS	"	good luck in money
3	"	"	change of friends
4	NINES	"	new endeavor
3	"	"	good times in store
4	EIGHTS	"	change of state, travel
3	"	"	change of state of affairs
4	SEVENS	"	intrigue, contention, opposition
3	"	"	sadness

Two cards of any kind side by side adds strength to their meaning.

Whenever there are three cards, as two reds against one black, it is for the better. Two blacks against one red is for the worse.

Many hearts falling near each other mean happiness. Many diamonds mean success and money. Many clubs mean good business. Many spades mean to guard against sickness, trouble, worry or an accident.

The card sequences may be formed if only the corners touch.

GONG HEE FOT CHOY proves there are THREE good chances to one bad in our lives. If we concentrate on what we want in the right way we will surely get it, and when trouble does come our way from the lack of concentration we should handle it firmly and cast it aside. Consult GONG HEE FOT CHOY once a week and learn to get the good things out of life that are here for you.

Continue with the second row, etc., until all houses are covered. Read the message in the House of Compass and face direction indicated by card found there, if reading your own fortune. If you are reading the cards for some guest, they must not face direction indicated.

The next house on board is the House of Wishes, whatever card is there you will find listed in its suit on page 8 or 9 in the book. Follow this procedure throughout the remaining houses.
